ANNUAL MEETING

OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE C. P. R.

The Old Board Unanimously Re-elected—A Great Many Improvements and Vast Extensions of the Systems—Surplus of $2,656,422.83—Business of the Year.

MONTREAL, May 14.—The annual meeting of the C.P.R. was held yesterday, 344,000 shares being represented. The old Board was unanimously re-elected. A balance sheet of the affairs of the company at 31st December last, together with the usual statements relating to the business of the past year, were submitted.

Gross earnings for the year	$16,332,528 98
Working expenses	10,232,828 47
Net earnings	6,299,700 51
Deducting fixed charges of the year	4,246,618 00
The surplus was	2,053,082 51
From this two supplementary dividends of one per cent. were paid August 17, 1890, and February 17, 1891, amounting to	1,300,000 00
Surplus carried forward	753,082 51
Surplus of previous year	1,903,350 32
Total surplus carried forward	$2,656,432 83

The working expenses for the year amounted to 61.94 per cent. of the gross earnings, and the net earnings to 38.06 per cent., as compared with 60.40 and 39.96 per cent. respectively in 1889. The earnings and working expenses for the New Brunswick R.R. are included from September 1. It was anticipated in the last annual report that the earnings the first half of the past year had suffered in consequence of the light crops of 1889, nearly all of which were marketed before the close of that year. Traffic interchanges with the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic, and the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste Marie railways were likewise affected by the crop failures in the Northwestern States. The crops of the past year were large in Manitoba and Assiniboia and fairly good elsewhere; but the harvest in the Northwestern provinces was long delayed by the wet weather, and little grain was marketed until the middle of October. It was only in the last ten weeks of the year therefore, that the new crop began to tell in the earnings of the railway.

During the greater part of the year, as was the case in the last half of 1889, freights of a leaner description than are usually sought had to be taken in order to keep up the earnings, and this unfavorably affected the ratio of working expenses to profits. The large amount of money realized by the farmers in the Northwest from their crops, and the considerable amount of grain, yet in their hands and in store along the line, promise a good traffic until another crop is harvested, and only an average crop is required to ensure handsome results for the present year, which has opened most auspiciously, the earnings of the first four months having increased $1,278,830, and the profit for the same time (estimating April) having increased about $550,000, over the corresponding four months of the year covered by this report.

Among the many improvements may be mentioned the replacement of 216 timber bridges of various kinds by permanent masonry or iron work or solid embankments. The provision of sidings for mines, manufacturing establishments and other industries on the company's lines is alone a large item in the improvements account. To provide for the rapidly increasing traffic, large additions to the rolling stock must be made during the current year, as the company's equipment is already taxed beyond its capacity. It is the policy of your directors to continue the improvements in the order of their importance, and as rapidly as the work can be done with advantage.

The extension of the Ontario and Quebec system from London, Ont., to Windsor and Detroit, was opened for traffic in June, and the results have been very satisfactory. During the past year the Souris branch was extended from Souris to Hartney, 164 miles, and the grading is complete to Melita, 261 miles beyond. A section of 27 miles of a lateral branch of the Souris line was completed from Glenboro westward, 21.8 miles, and graded 5.7 miles more. Within a few weeks the first 100 miles of the Souris branch system will be completed. The extension of the Souris branch is urgently required for the relief of the many settlers in Southwestern Manitoba and Southwestern Assiniboia, who are out of reach of a market to dispose of their products. It is also required for the protection of the company's interest in that quarter, and for the development of an important section of its land grant. A grant of 6400 acres per mile of the railway has been secured from the Dominion Government in aid of these extensions, and the Province of Manitoba has granted further aid in money. The Qu'Appelle, Long Lake & Saskatchewan Railway, which was referred to in the last annual report as having been completed to a point 150 miles northwesterly from Regina, was extended during the year to Prince Albert, on the North Saskatchewan River—an additional distance of 100. This line is held by your company under lease for six years without rental, and your company has an option to purchase it at the end of that time. The Calgary & Edmonton Railway, which will be held by your company on the same terms, was completed during the year from Calgary northward 93 miles, and will be extended to Edmonton, a distance of 97 miles, during the present season. It is also extended southward from Calgary to Fort McLeod 110 miles, and about 50 miles of this section are expected to be completed before the end of this year.

The Columbia and Kootenay railway (leased to your Company), in perpetuity connecting the navigable waters of the Columbia and Kootenay Mining District, is now practically completed, but an important traffic waits its opening. The work on the Mission branch was not pushed forward till late in the past year because of the delay in the completion of the American lines, approaching from the South, with which it was intended to connect. The connection has now been made, and continuous railway communication is established between British Columbia and the Gulf of California, by which all the important cities on the Pacific Coast have been connected. One other branch line remains to be made during the present year, the Temiscaminque railway, extending from Mattawa, Ont., to the Ottawa river, northward to Lake Temiscaminque and Kippawa, 451 miles (also reaching the important timber country in Eastern Canada). This line is already in operation, in short sections, and a very large amount of traffic awaits its completion. Both the Dominion Government and the Government of Quebec have granted liberal aid in money towards its construction, and its control by your company is deemed of such importance by your directors, that they will ask your authority for its acquisition and completion.

The matters in arbitration between the Government and the company, respecting the section of the railway made by the Government in British Columbia, have not yet reached a decision. The arbitrators are now on the ground and it is hoped that a conclusion will soon be reached. The building of the company's China and Japan steamships was delayed by numerous strikes in the shipyards, but at the date of this report one of the ships has completed its first trip from Hongkong to Vancouver. The second is on its way from England to Hongkong, and the third will soon be ready for service. The results of the first trip of the Empress of India have been most gratifying in every respect.

In October last a final settlement was reached with the Government concerning the company's lands. The question relating to the original grant, and the grants made to the various branch lines, have been fully and satisfactorily disposed of, and the company is now in a position to select in favorable localities the remainder of its lands. Immigration and land sales were seriously affected during the present year by the crop failure of 1889, in the Northwest, but the present year has opened with a decided improvement in both.

The sales of Canadian Pacific lands last year were 53,941 acres for $176,086, at an average price of $3.76 per acre, as against 142,661 acres for $494,403 in 1889, at an average of $3.46 per acre. The sales of Manitoba and Southwestern railway lands for 1890 were 7544 acres for $36,078 at an average price of $4.78 per acre as against 52,499 acres for $236,792, at an average price of $4.51 per acre. Of the lands previously recovered by the company, by cancellation of sales 7608 acres were resold during the year at a profit of $11,465. The position of the Canadian Pacific land grant at December 31st, was as follows: Original grant 25,000,000 acres; surrendered to Government under agreement, 6,793,014; total, 18,206,986. The company has earned on account of its Souris branch land grant, 640,000; grand total, 18,846,986 acres. Sales to December 31st, 1890, 360,615, less cancelled in 1890, 4988. Total sold 3,601,023; quantity of land unsold 15,245,963. The position of the Manitoba Southwestern land grant at the end of the year was as follows: Original grant, 1,309,424 acres; grant for Carman extension, 40,000; total 1,349,424. Sales to Dec., 31, 1890, 107,418; less cancelled to Dec., 31, 1890, 990; total sales, 106,428; quantities of land unsold, 1,232,996.

The directors believe that the surplus earnings for the present year and hereafter will be at least sufficient to pay regular dividends at the rate of five per cent per annum on the ordinary shares of the company, without regard to the guaranteed dividend which expires in August, 1893, but they recommend a continuance of the policy of supplementing with two per cent from surplus earnings, making a total annual payment of five per cent., and allowing the remainder to accumulate as a reserve. In conclusion the directors feel justified in pointing with some degree of pride to the fact that the first day of the present month was the time fixed by the original contract between the government and the company for the completion of the main line of the railway. That date not only found the main line already more than five years in operation, but found the company with 5500 miles of railway in full and profitable working order, with tributary lines embracing 1600 miles more, with its line reaching almost every important place in the Dominion of Canada and with connections established to New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, and as if to mark this date more strongly the first of the company's fleet of Pacific steamships has just arrived at Vancouver from China and Japan, with a full passenger list and full cargo. Signed,

WM. C. VAN HOUNE,
President.

A Druggist's Fatal Mistake.

NELSON, Neb., May 13.—The jury in the poisoning case of the State vs. Stevenson brought in a verdict of guilty of manslaughter. The case grew out of a mistake by a druggist putting up corrosive sublimate instead of calomel for Miss Easley, which resulted in her death.

Jury Disagreed.

BOSTON, Mass., May 14.—In the case of Mrs. Everett vs. John Stetson, to recover money lost by Jonathan Bourne, jr., of New Bedford, in the alleged gambling transaction, the jury disagreed.

Union Pacific Earnings.

BOSTON, May 14.—The gross earnings in March of the Union Pacific Railway's whole system were $3,272,986, a decrease of $385,314; net earnings, $1,015,114, a decrease of $110,664.

Heavy Failure.

GLASGOW, May 14.—R. F. Wilson, a prominent broker of this city, has failed; liabilities heavy.

Gladstone Improving.

LONDON, May 14.—Gladstone's fever continues to abate and his general condition to improve.

THE WORLD'S RECORD.

CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN DISCHARGE THEIR SWITCHMEN.

Expulsion of Captain Verney—The Charleston Said to Have Blown the Itata Up—Fatal Mistake Made by a Druggist—Hawaiian News.

MILWAUKEE, May 14.—All of the regular switchmen of the Chicago and Northwestern here, 51 men, comprising eight crews, were discharged and paid off at 7 o'clock this morning, in accordance with a general order of dismissal over the entire system.

CHICAGO, May 14.—At precisely at 7 o'clock this morning, every switchman in the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co., 200 in this city and 300 employed at different points along the line, were paid off. The company chose this hour as the most convenient to notify both day and night men that their services would no longer be required. General Manager Whitman reports that so far there has been no trouble or disturbance occasioned by lock out. The road has been preparing for to-day's action during the past two months, and for every man discharged this morning there was another ready to take his place. Mr. Whitman said the company would no longer put up with the state of things that has existed during the past three years and to-day's action is a practical demonstration of the intention of the company to run its own business. On account of the men being always ready to strike at the slightest provocation, the train service has been unsatisfactory to the public and to the company itself.

News from Hawaii.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—Professor Brigham, in a report to the surveyor's office concerning the recent breakdown in the crater of the volcano of Kilauea, says the entire fire area was gone. Peaks, cones and pools had vanished, and in their places was a pit crater of elliptical outline, 2500 by 3000 feet in extent. The walls were perpendicular, and quite impassable. The estimated depth was 500 feet. The breakdown is slightly larger than that of 1886, and differs in that after a lapse of only three weeks molten lava has again appeared, and the crater is filling up rapidly.

The inspection of the leper settlement at Molokai by Queen Liliuokalani on April 26 was the occasion of an affectionate greeting of her Majesty by the unfortunate subjects confined there. The Queen expressed much sympathy for their condition. She was accompanied by Prince Kalanianaole and 300 prominent people of Honolulu.

Capt. Verney Expelled.

LONDON, May 13.—Capt. Verney, who was convicted on his own confession of conspiring to procure a girl for immoral purposes, was expelled from the Commons to-day. After the formal expulsion of Capt Verney, the papers in the De Cobain case were called up. Caldwell, Liberal, then complained of the sanitary condition of the house. Caldwell called attention to the fact that a number of members were suffering from influenza, and said it was probable they owed their sickness to the multitudes of microbes pervading the house of parliament. Plunkett said he had given orders to have every room in both houses fumigated during the Whitsuntide holidays.

The Financial Stringency.

LONDON, May 13.—The Bank of England yesterday practically charged 5 per cent. to all comers, and to-day threatened to charge 5½, should the pressure continue, the object being, if possible, to avoid the raising of the official rate.

LONDON, May 14.—The markets opened firmer, but depressed by the unexpected advance in the bank rate to five per cent. It is now rather weak, with the exception of foreigners, which have rallied upon bear purchases. There are vague fears of serious difficulties outside of the stock exchange.

An Improbable Report.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 14.—Rumors continue to be circulated that the Itata has been sunk by the Charleston. The Itata is said to have returned the Charleston's fire and to have been blown to pieces by the cruiser's guns. The affair is represented as occurring outside the three mile limit, but the reports cannot be traced to an authentic source.

OTTAWA NEWS.

Two Lives Lost at a Fire—The Alien Bill Withdrawn.

OTTAWA, May 14.—Early this morning a fire took place on the Chelsea road, three miles from the city, in the private residence of Wm. Hudson. Hudson and wife were sleeping on the ground-floor of the building, and managed to escape, but their son James, 22 years of age, who was asleep upstairs, was burned to a crisp. His sister Maude also perished in the flames, while her sister, a girl of 15 years of age, escaped by leaping from the window to the ground. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Sir John Thompson said, on reaching Taylor's alien labor bill, that owing to a conference which was arranged for between the United States and Canada, it would be advisable to withdraw the bill. This was agreed to and the House adjourned at 5 o'clock.

Dr. Brett and Labett, members of the advisory board of the Northwest Assembly, arrived to-day to urge upon the Government the granting of responsible government to the territories.

The Irish delegates left here to-day. There was $400 raised at their meeting last night.

Neither Sir John nor Laurier were in their seats when the House met to-day. Mills led the Opposition and Langevin the Government. Another batch of prohibition petitions were presented, and an act to amend the school act was introduced.

Martin's prices for hardware are rock bottom.

WHEN TIME IS DONE.

"Hereafter in a better world than this,
I shall desire more love and knowledge of you."—As You Like It.

Now and again, amid the thronging street,
As hastening through our daily round we go,
Our pulses to unwonted measures beat,
To see some face at light,
Seen and then lost to sight,
Whereat we muse: "How fair a soul to know!"

Now and again, in quiet peaceful hours,
Some precious page will steal our hearts away;
The while we read we feel life's dormant powers:
"To touch that robe of white,
Live in that presence bright!
Why dwelt we not near that sweet saint?" we say.

Now and again the patient waiting faces
Of aged folk whose days are nearly run,
Gentle manhood, children's tender graces,
Bring wistful joy like pain.
Could these with us remain,
How different were life beneath our sun!

Once and forever, from beyond the sun,
Shall come the light to show all longing heart
Their never-found, their loved and lost, each one;
And thus great promise give
That all on earth who live
Shall love and knowledge have when time is done.

A MOTHER-IN-LAW.

How a Fault-Finding Husband Was Trapped by Her Aid.

"I wouldn't have believed it of you, Rachel," said Mrs. Edmonstone, plaintively. "No, I wouldn't, not unless Betsy Tacker had told me; and Betsy, she never told a lie no more than George Washington did."

"Why, mother, what are you talking about?" questioned Mrs. Thomas Edmonstone, untying the elder lady's bonnet strings and relieving her of a splint basket, a black silk bag, a waterproof cloak and an umbrella.

"And I've come to see if it's true," added the old lady.

"If what's true, mother?"

"That you said you wished there wasn't no such person as m—me!" faltered Mrs. Edmonstone.

"Mother, you know I never could have said such a thing!" cried out Rachel.

"Well, it wasn't exactly that; but Betsy Tacker heard you say you wished there was no such a thing as a mother-in-law."

"Oh!" cried Rachel, with a hysterical little laugh, "I plead guilty. I did say that. But oh! mother! it was under such strong provocation, and I never meant you. How could I, when you have always been so good to me?"

"I knew it couldn't be true," said Mrs. Edmonstone, settling herself in the easiest rocking-chair and nodding her cap-strings comfortably. "But how came you to make that ex-tra-or-dinary speech, Rachel, about mothers-in-law in general?"

"It was Tom," said the young wife. "He was so aggravating!"

"Thomas always was aggravating," said Mrs. Edmonstone, stirring the cup of tea that Rachel had brought her. "And what was it about now? The breakfast cakes?"

"Oh, you remember about the breakfast cakes, don't you?" said Rachel, with merry mischief sparkling in her eyes. "No, it wasn't the breakfast cakes this time; it was the shirts."

"The shirts?"

"Well, you know he said it was such a wasteful, extravagant proceeding to buy shirts ready-made," explained Rachel. "He said the linen was poor, and the work regular slop-shop style, and he declared you always used to make his shirts at home, every stitch, before he was married."

"So I did," acknowledged Mrs. Edmonstone, with a groan. "But that was in the old times, before you could buy such a good article as they have now."

"Yes, but Tom doesn't make any allowance for difference in times and customs," sighed Rachel. "He wanted home-made shirts, and home-made shirts he would have!"

"And you made 'em?"

"Yes, I made them."

"You were a great goose," reflectively spoke Mrs. Edmonstone.

"And—and Tom swore dreadfully the first time he put one on"—

"I don't in the least doubt it."

"And he said they set like meal bags, and that they twisted his neck around as if he had just been hanged, and grasped him on the shoulders like a policeman! Oh, I can't tell you what he didn't say!"

"Bless me!" said Mrs. Edmonstone.

"He told me his mother's shirts set like a glove, and fitted him perfectly—and why couldn't I turn out a shirt like those? And it was then, mother dear," suddenly dropping her prim, r-round, old lady's plump, comfortable neck, "that I lost my head, and told him I wished there wasn't such a thing as a mother-in-law in the world! And Betsy Tacker sat in the sewing-room altering over my dolman in the spring style, and I suppose she must have heard me."

"Don't mind it, my dear," said Mrs. Edmonstone.

"No, I won't," protested Rachel. "But, oh, those shirts! I've been ripping them apart and sewing them together again; and rounding off a gusset here, and taking in a plait there, until I've got so that I dream of 'em at night; and the more I try 'em on the worse they fit, and the more unreasonable Tom becomes. 'My mother never made such work of it as this!' says he."

"Thomas forgets," observed Mrs. Edmonstone, severely.

"And I am sure, if things go on like this," added Rachel, pushing her short brown curls off her forehead, "it will end in a separation on account of 'incompatibility of temper.'"

"No, it won't, my dear," said the mother-in-law. "Here, get me the pattern and some shirting muslin, and a pair of scissors."

"What are you going to do, mother?" eagerly questioned Rachel.

"I'm going to make Tom a shirt. But don't you tell him, Rachel. We'll see whether it is Tom or the pattern that has altered."

Once more the mischievous light came into Rachel's bright blue eyes.

"I wish all the world were mothers-in-law!" she cried gleefully. "Why didn't I think of this before?"

"One can't think of every thing, child," said Mrs. Edmonstone, consolingly.

Thomas Edmonstone welcomed his mother cordially when he came home from business.

"I'm so glad you've come!" said he. "We can have some of the nice old-fashioned dishes now. Rachel can't seem to get the hang of them, although she has always had your book of recipes to guide her."

"Rachel's a good deal better cook than ever I pretended to be," said Mrs. Edmonstone. "They have patent egg-beaters and cream-whippers and raisin-seeders, and all that sort of thing now, that they didn't have in my day. I never tasted nicer bread than Rachel makes, and these pop-overs are delicious."

"You're just saying that to encourage Rachel," said Mr. Edmonstone, with an incredulous smile. "Things will run smooth now you've come. That's one comfort."

"Oh, I shouldn't think of interfering in Rachel's kitchen," said the old lady.

"Please do, mother," coaxed the wife, not without a certain quiver in her lip. "Do let Tom have a reminiscence of the old days while you are here."

"Well, just as you children say," conceded the mother-in-law, good-humoredly.

She remained a week at her son's house, during which period of time Tom was all exultant complacency.

"This," said he, "is something like living. I feel myself a boy again when I taste these apple-fritters."

"They're not bad," said Rachel, who had made them with her own skillful hands. And she helped herself to a little of the sauce.

"And why didn't you learn my mother's knack of making such pie-crust as this?" demanded Tom. "There's no dyspepsia here."

"I'm glad you're pleased," said Rachel, with a guilty glance at her mother-in-law. "Oh, by the way, Tom, the last of the set of shirts is finished now. Will you put it on to-morrow?"

"I suppose so," ungraciously uttered Tom. "Will set like fury, I dare say, like all the rest of them!"

"You might at least give it a trial."

"Didn't I say I would?" still more ungraciously. "Those shirts will be the death of me yet," he added, turning to his mother with a groan, while Rachel sat steadily observing the pattern of the tablecloth.

The breakfast stood smoking on the table next morning when Mr. Edmonstone came into the room twisting himself as if he were practising to be a human corkscrew. Mrs. Edmonstone glanced timidly up at him.

"Doesn't it fit, Tom?" she questioned.

"Fit! Just look at it, will you?" he retorted. "Fit! Hangs like a window-curtain around my neck—pinches my wrist like a pair of handcuffs! I feel as if I were in a strait-jacket"—writhing impatiently to and fro. "Oh, I might have known it beforehand. You haven't an idea what the word fit means. I wish, mother, you could teach this wife of mine now to make a decent shirt!"

"Thomas," said Mrs. Edmonstone solemnly, transfixing him with the glistening spheres of her spectacle glasses, "you are not very polite. I made that shirt."

"You, mother!"

"Yes, I myself. Just as I used to make shirts for you in the old times that you're always sighing after. I've been working at it ever since I've been in the house. Throw away the pattern, Rachel, and don't waste any more time trying to make your husband's shirts," she added. "It's an economy of time and temper, as well as of money, to buy them ready-made. And as for the cooking you have been praising up so eloquently all the time I've been here, Tom, I haven't touched a pot or a pan. It's all your wife's work. So much for imagination! Oh, you needn't hang your head so sheepishly; you're neither better nor worse than most men," went on Mrs. Edmonstone. "I never saw the man yet that didn't need to hear a little wholesome truth now and then. You've got the best and sweetest little wife in the world."

"Mother!" pleaded Rachel, trying to put her hand over the old lady's mouth, but Mrs. Edmonstone resolutely persisted:

"And it's my advice to you to try to treat her as she deserves."

"I—I don't know but I have been rather cranky of late," said Tom, self-consciously, "now that I come to think of it."

"Cranky! I should think so," said the old lady. "I'm sure I don't know what the world's coming to. Here's little Georgy toddling around with his wooden cart. The first you know he'll be telling his wife about the wonderful successes his mother used to make in this, and that, and the other thing. We've all got to come to it."

"And Georgy'll be right," said Tom, who, after all, had a magnanimous streak through him. "What a crab I've been! Hang the home-made shirts! I'll buy 'em out of the store next time! Kiss me, Rachel—and you, too, mother. And be sure you let me have a dish of scalloped oysters when I come home to dinner." The oysters Rachel cooked.

He ate his breakfast and departed. And when he was gone, young Mrs. Edmonstone looked with shining eyes at old Mrs. Edmonstone.

"Oh, what a nice thing to have a mother-in-law!" said she, fervently.—Fireside Companion.

The Maiden's Wish.

She (gazing pensively out at the first snow)—Oh, how I wish I lived in Russia!

He (astonished)—In Russia?

She—Yes. I've just been reading that a Russia lover will sleigh his sweetheart rather than give her up. What glorious men those Russians must be.—West Shore.

The Brute.

She—I learned how to cook when I was in boarding school.

3rd dam ..... by Emancipation, jr., By imp. Emancipation.

NOTE—MIDGARD is a high-headed, well-finished stallion, possessing extra length and substance, with capital legs and feet; 15¼ hands high, and carries himself with much style. His disposition is perfect, and few stallions possess his fine road qualities. His breeding speaks for itself, being by a well bred sire with a record below 2:30, and out of a mare by old Hambletonian (sire of the dams of 63 performers with records from 2:12¼ to 2:30), and she out of a Star mare. The chief bloodlines of this stallion spring from the Hambletonian, Mambrino Chief, Edwin Forrest, and American Star families (strong producing sources), and are backed up with thoroughbred strains. Midgard is an exceptionally good individual, and is very richly bred.

TERMS—$30 the season, with return privileges, payable at time of service.

DID CHRIST DIE UPON THE CROSS?

TO THE EDITOR.—Your correspondents, "Crux" and Mr. Pegg, have not furnished any evidence (beyond tradition) that Christ died upon the cross. Permit me to throw the argument into a syllogism.

Major—Christ died upon a stauros.

Minor—Stake, the English of the word stauros.

Conclusion—Christ died upon a stake.

As your correspondents assert that Christ died upon the cross it is for them to assail my major or minor premis.

Mr. Pegg has referred us to Tertullian, Justin Martyr, Constantine and others. These authorities refer to the custom of signing themselves with the sign of the cross. This custom did not originate with the supposed death of Christ upon the cross, and it is in no way connected with it. Tertullian distinctly states that the custom "had been handed down by tradition and custom had confirmed it." The quotation from Justin, pressed into service by Mr. Pegg, is conclusive that the pagans had the sign of the cross and used it as a sort of Free Mason's sign. No Christian was admitted into their midnight meetings in the times of persecution without making his sign. There was, I admit, some reverence paid to this simple device, and there was a reason for it. In the days of Abraham it was the custom to worship ancestral Gods; the first-born of both men and beasts were worshipped. The emblem of life was the object of their adoration. To put a stop to this the rite of circumcision was established. The cutting of the covenant put a stop to this horrid worship, as the object of their adoration was to be without spot or blemish. The birthright entitled the first-born to deification. To stop this Abraham gives the birthright to Isaac, thus preventing the deification of both Ishmeal (who had not the birthright) and Isaac (who was not the first-born.) The same thing was done in the case of Esau and Jacob. Had Isaac had his way the old worship would have been re-established, Isaac and Esau becoming ancestral Gods. However, It was decreed before they were born that the elder should serve the younger. We have the same thing in Jabob passing over the head of Reuben, splitting the birthright blessing in twain. To Joseph he gave the birthright, but the sceptre and stone (i.e. law-giver) he gave to Judah, thus forever preventing the re-establishment of their former worship. Joseph presents his two sons; Jacob, hower, contrary to the wish of Joseph, crosses his arms and placed his right hand upon the head of the younger and gives him the birthright. Here we have the origin of the sign of the cross, when Joshua, the younger, who was selected to take the lead, he could only do so successfully when the arms of Moses were raised in the form of a cross. The princes knowing the sign allowed Joshua to take the lead. Here we have the origin of our Union Jack. Solomon the younger, is chosen not only to reign as king, but to build the temple. The cross is pressed into service (Solomon's signet); every stone for the erection of the temple has to be marked. The sign of the cross supply these marks and here we have the origin of our numerals. Our hot cross bun had its origin in the cakes made to the Queen of Heaven. Ezekiel ix., 4 to 6, refers to the custom of marking their forehead with the sign of the cross. The idolatrous Israelites went into captivity as Baal or Sun worshippers, taking with them the sign of the cross. They were scattered among the nations; in Rome they went under the name of barbarians. Constantine's army was made up of these. The Union Jack, or sign of the cross, was displayed; it took the place of the eagles, and under the immediate protection of the all-seeing deity the sun. Constantine is victorious. The sun deity is honored by the first Sunday law, "the venerable day of the sun," while the sign of the cross, or union Jack, is triumphant. No one, to my knowledge, has ever asserted that Constantine was a Christian when he is supposed to have seen the cross on the sun—the time when the cross took the place of the eagles. This is conclusive that the scattered Israelites or barbarians and early Christians did not in any way connect the sign of the cross with the instrument of Christ's death, and all the references of Mr. Pegg to the Fathers to prove that Christ died upon a cross, or that they gloried in the the instrument of Christ's death, fall to round. Mr. Pegg has been leaning upon an Egyptian reed, and it has pierced him. Crosses were erected on the banks of the Nile. They were erected simply as a water mark, the transverse beam indicating the height of the tide. Being connected with the river of life, there was some sort of reverence paid to them. They indicated to value of the land and warned the traveler. With religious ceremonies they were once a year brought into the Temple of Serapis. Upon the introduction of Christianity, they found their way into Christian edifices, and there they are likely to remain, with all the superstitious reverence the Egyptian priest paid to their "ell." Yours, etc., JOSEPH SPENCER.

CONSTABLES AS SUNDAY OBSERVERS.

TO THE EDITOR.—The Government must have a peculiar policy, when it allows a constable drawing a big salary, to spend every Sunday and part of the other days in the week selling whisky over a bar, and the remark is often made, that a person buying a bottle, or several of them from the said constable, might create as much disturbance as he wanted and not be arrested. I believe this is the only province in the Dominion where such a thing would be tolerated, and, what seems more strange is that, "The Hon. John Robson" should be so anxious to have a "Sunday Bill" passed, prohibiting a man from going hunting, fishing, or on a picnic, and will allow a constable to look after and spend his time on Sunday in a house which has a license to sell whisky, etc. TOURIST.

Talking of patent medicines—you know the old prejudice. And the doctors—some of them are betweed you and us. They would like you to think that what's cured thousands won't cure you. You'd believe in patent medicines if they didn't profess to cure everything—and so, between the experiments of the doctors and the experiments of patent medicines that are sold only because there's money in the "stuff," you lose faith in everything.

And you can't always tell the prescription that cures by what you read in the papers. So, perhaps, there's no better way to sell a remedy than to tell the truth about it, and take the risk of its doing just what it professes to do.

That's what the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N.Y., does with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

If they don't do what their makers say they'll do you get your money back

From the Pacific Coast.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS

OH, MY BACK!

STOP IT NOW,

SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when that Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the DRAGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days, I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

WHITE ROCK, B. C.

This Townsite is situated on Semiahmoo Bay, and is the only deep water seaport between the International Bounday Line and Vancouver, B.C. It will probably be the Mainland starting-point of the Victoria, Saanich & New Westminster Railway. It is now the outlet for the finest agricultural district in British Columbia.

The C.P.R. has made a survey of a line from Vancouver direct to this point. The Royal City Planing Mills Company has built a substantial wharf here, and has established a lumber yard, which supplies the farmers of this district. A handsome Hotel has been erected and building is going on rapidly. Several influential and far-sighted corporations have acquired large tracts of land surrounding this Townsite.

GILMORE AND McCANDLESS

CLOTHIERS & HATTERS

SUITS TO ORDER

CHEAPER THAN EVER.

Since the formation of a union amongst the tailors in Victoria prices for clothing have advanced to such an extent that people are sending East for their suits. And we don't blame them, either, if they can save from $10 to $20 a suit. We pay union prices simply because we have to; not that we consider it right.

We were paying our men the same wages before union prices were enforced that we paid them ten years ago, when we received from ten to twenty per cent. more for our suits.

We have from ten to fifteen thousand dollars invested in tailoring, and we propose to turn it over at least twice a year, regardless of profits. To do this we will make suits cheaper than we did before we paid high prices for making up. Good Tweed and Serge Suits, $25.

Irish Tweeds, $27, $28, $30 and $32. If any other tailor in town will prove that these goods are not genuine Irish Tweeds we will donate a Thousand Dollars to any charitable institution that he may name.

Black worsted suits $40. You will get the same goods for $48 or $50 elsewhere. We intend to make a specialty of tweed suits for $30; regular price is $35 to $40. We have the store for our other business; it costs us nothing for the tailoring department; we have the stock; we have a first-class cutter, and we have capital enough to run it if we don't make a cent. So now is the time to get cheap suits to order.

We are going through the stock marking everything down. Don't take everything for granted. See our new schedule of prices.

PULL IT DOWN.

Ald. MUNN has taken "the bull by the horns" and will proceed to raze to the ground the unsightly powder magazine in the Park. This old brick building, which until recently has been the receptacle for powder belonging to the Dominion Government, is an eyesore to the locality, and so long as it was used as a magazine was a positive danger to the lives of our citizen. It belongs, we understand, to the Dominion Government, who have been requested by the city time and again to pull it down. But the Government acts very slowly in all Victoria matters. They take every proposition from our council or representatives "under consideration," and they keep it there until it is forgotten. Col. PRIOR has been making superhuman efforts to obtain a drill shed, and even threatened to resign if his demands were not complied with. But the drill shed is unbuilt and Col PRIOR is still with us. We hope the Chairman of the Park Committee will be more successful in "pulling down" than our representative at Ottawa has been in "building up." The cost of removing the old magazine will be a few hundred dollars at most, and this sum the Dominion Government has refused to grant.

MORE A QUESTION OF FLESH POTS THAN PRINCIPLES.

We were of opinion that the controversy over the "vice of annexation" had been carried far enough, for, if after a reasonable quantity of reasonable argument has been expended, the Tory brain is still unable to see the point, the only thing left to do is to crack its skull. The history of Torvism is, that it invariably has had to be mauled into submission. And, we are happy to say, the Telegram reciprocates our opinion in the matter. Touching the subject of reciprocity vs. annexation, the Telegram confines itself to a point raised by the TIMES; viz, that in the event of reciprocity, the Canadian sugar refiners, instead of being froze out, would be invited to pool with the American refiners, an invitation to which they would be likely to respond. This, we regard, the most reasonable view of the matter. Business men, wherever you find them, are more practical than sentimental. He who has had an opportunity to study business men on both sides of the line has discovered an amazing amount of cosmopolitanism, and little or no difference in point of scrupulousness. Money making is their occupation, and sectionalism is not permitted to stand in their way in the consummation of their central object. Business men on the Canadian side of the line are protectionists, or free traders as the case may be, for the same reason as are their American prototypes, and that reason is self-interest. Not one business man in ten thousand is a protectionist, or conversely, as a national question. He is governed solely by self-interest. Protectionism, or free-tradeism, as the case may be, with business men, is a matter of dry business, dollars and cents. It is only the poor devil of the average elector, or perhaps a Tory editor, who treats fiscal questions as matters of sentiment. It is simply begging the question, therefore, to assume that in the event of reciprocity the policy of the business men on either side of the line would be influenced by sectionalism. Under reciprocity the relations between Canada and the United States would be the same as between the different states of the Union. Each state is politically independent, but as regards business there is community of interest. The rule could not help but apply to Canada in the event of reciprocity coming into operation. But, says our contemporary, in effect, under reciprocity it would be clearly in the interest of American manufacturers to capture the Canadian market? Granted. But how are markets captured? With a market of 65,000,000 thrown open to Canada against a market of 5,000,000 thrown open to the Americans, the advantage is all on one side. The markets of the United States are as accessible to Ontario as the markets of Ontario are accessible to New England. The freezing out business is a game that two can play. While the Americans are freezing out Canadian manufacturers, the latter will be quietly drumming up business in the United States. Everything tends to shw that the game of freeze out would be the last resort of the Americans. The game would be too unequal. Finally, the Telegram, as if a little uncertain of its ground in respect of what would be the policy of American manufacturers, toward Canada, reproaches the TIMES with advocating the gospel of the "combines." "Is not the TIMES an advocate of free trade, and is it not utterly inconsistent with free trade principles to favor a policy which would make combines possible?" asks the Telegram. This is disingenuous. The TIMES, in speaking of what would or might happen, does not commit itself to any principle. The TIMES takes the world as it finds it, and draws its deductions accordingly. Further, are combines peculiar to the United States alone? If combines at this juncture are not as peculiar to Canada as to the United States, then there is no such thing as a combine anywhere on this "footstool." The truth is, that the "Liberal party and their press" are not inconsistent, but the Tory party and their press, rather. Unable to make it conclusively appear that Canada's business interests would suffer under reciprocity, they fall back on the cry that it would lead to annexation, and to make this yelp all the more preposterous they will bargain with a Yankee at any time provided there is a dollar in it. Give us reciprocity on our own terms, say the Tories, and we will reciprocate. Would not reciprocity on Tory terms lead to annexation as quickly as reciprocity on Liberal terms? The Tories, to be strictly consistent, should decline to reciprocate under any conditions. After all it is more a question of flesh pots than principles. If Sir JOHN should propose unrestricted reciprocity to-morrow nineteen-twentieths of the Tory press would throw up their hats.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. GORDON will move in the House of Commons for a return of all correspondence in reference to the "Wellington war." He wants to know all the Dominion Government knows about the sending of the militia to Wellington last summer.

The Italian press evidently has no conception of the status of the Mafia case in the United States, or they would not talk of the settlement of the difficulty by arbitration. If there is any one thing that the United States would not submit to arbitration it is their responsibility in the affair at New Orleans.

It is to be feared that GLADSTONE has gone to bed for the last time. Eighty odd years old, and unquestionably suffering from the grippe, or a form of it, the chances are against his recovery. It is to be hoped that he will recover. He exercises a moral force that not merely England, but the whole English-speaking world can ill afford to lose.

Globe: The Government refused in the recent debate to state its position on the reciprocity question. Is it for reciprocity in natural products alone? If so, what has it to say to Mr. BLAINE who informed Mr. BAKER that reciprocity in natural products alone would not suffice? If it is for reciprocity in manufactures, how is it going to avoid discrimination against Britain? Is it true, as stated by the Montreal Gazette, that ministers went to Washington last month ready to discuss unrestricted reciprocity? If so, where is the treason in the liberal advocacy of that policy? These and other queries should be pressed strenuously by Liberals. It is an insult to the country for a Government which dissolved parliament to obtain the sense of the people on the reciprocity question to refuse now that the elections are over to give them some inkling of its own attitude.

Severe Cold Cured.

DEAR SIRS,—My mother was attacked with a very severe cold and cough. She resolved to try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, and, on so doing, found it did her more good than any other medicine she ever tried. MRS. KENNEDY.

A DEADLY TRAP.

Catching a Thief with a Pocket Lined with Fishhooks.

They were discussing the best way to bring a prisoner from the place of his arrest to headquarters at the central office not long ago, says the New York Times, and the collar, cuff, and armgrips were instanced as manual expedients, and handcuffs, nippers and pocket bludgeon thongs as mechanical aids.

"I know," said a detective who had been to Europe and passed some time in the society of London detectives, "how a pickpocket was once arrested without his captor seeing his prisoner's face before he got to the lockup, and without anyone putting a hand on him. It happened this way: A detective who was often detailed to gatherings, weddings, the houses of parliament, Westminster abbey, and other public places, often ran across a wiry little man who he discovered had no business where he was seen, and did nothing for a living.

"Coincidental with the man's visits to crowded places were complaints of larcenies of articles that were carried in the pockets of tails of coats, and especially silk handkerchiefs. The detectives suspected the little wiry man, but he evidently had more than one confederate to pass what was stolen so as to be 'clean,' for the officer who was watching him, and who was nettled at reproof from his superiors for his negligence in not discovering the pickpocket, had him arrested twice by other officers and 'shaken down' without finding any stolen goods in his possession.

"Strange officers were used to make the arrests in order that the suspected man might not become familiar with the principal detective's face, as he determined to get him 'by hook or by crook.' Now I don't mean this for a pun, but it came out that way. The detective belonged to one of the many fishing clubs that abound in London, and was familiar with tackle.

"Procuring four dozen unsnelled hooks of the size and strength used here for blackfish, some flax thread and a needle, he passed an afternoon in turning the tail-pockets of an old-fashioned frock coat into a thief-trap. The hooks were ringed and with the needle were sewed bent out just inside the pocket, permitting a hand to enter, but preventing its withdrawal. He knew of a book sale that would be largely attended at the east end of the Strand and made up carefully for it, so that when he left home he was a pleasant-faced old gobemouche.

"At the book sale he took care to be as vacuous and unmindful of his surroundings as possible, but noted the presence of the suspect and waited calmly for a bite. It came. There was a tug at his coat and a bitter oath, and he knew that his man's hand was seized by the hooks, and that he would not venture to risk the agony that tearing away forcibly would inflict. So he said quietly: 'If you follow me our surgeon will relieve you,' and attempted to walk to Scotland Yard, half a mile away, the trapped thief following with his hand in the detective's pocket.

"But such a large crowd gathered that the detective had to take a cab and he landed the man safely in the detective's office. He was held by four of the hooks and the barbs had to be cut off before they were extracted. The thief confessed and went to prison for a short term, but the Scotland Yard authorities frowned on the detective's method and prohibited any further experiments of the sort for fear the newspapers would denounce the expedient as cruel. But a deadlier trap could not be baited for a 'clyfaker.'"

NAMES WITH PRESCRIPTIONS.

Druggists Might Save Lives by Insisting on This Simple Precaution.

Said a St. Louis druggist to a Globe-Democrat reporter: "You ask me why I inquired your address when writing out the prescription for your cough. The reason will at once commend itself to every sensible mind, and is simply this: There have been cases innumerable where lives might have been saved had the number of the residence of the party for whom the prescription was put up been known to the druggist. For, as we all know, mistakes are made even in the most reliable drug stores through the carelessness of clerks. Not long ago a druggist found, on returning from supper, that a bottle of strychnine was on the counter and asked the reason why. The clerk replied that he had just been putting up a prescription and was horrified when he found that he had made use of strychnine instead of some less harmful drug mentioned in the prescription. The frightened young fellow did not even know the name of the person who had come in for it or for whom it was intended, and after hours of search on the part of the distracted druggist the unfortunate victim was traced to his home, but too late, for the first dose had killed him. That is why I place the name of the patient both on the prescription for the druggist and on the stub left in my prescription book."

The Slaves of Chiapas.

A system of peonage, or slavery, is extensively carried on in Chiapas, Mexico, and its workings are novel and interesting as described in the Philadelphia Times. The slaves nearly all come from the middle class of Spaniards, and are not Indians, as is generally supposed. The usual custom is for a family who may have a boy or girl ten or fourteen years of age to take the child to some plantation owner or family of the first class and propose that it shall take a position as servant on condition that an advance of ten or fifteen dollars is made to the parents. The contract also generally stipulates that the child shall receive a certain amount as wages, and the sum shall be placed to its credit until the money advanced has been paid, when the child will again be free. As the child grows older and becomes able to earn more money its parents, so it happens in nearly every case, apply for more money, thus piling up the debt. When the child becomes of age it generally asks for money for its own personal use, and thus bound to its master it must continue in slavery until the debt is paid.

A Common Origin.

All skin diseases of whatsoever name or nature are caused by impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is a natural foe to impure blood, removing all foul humors from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore.

Victoria Theatre Company.

A general meeting of the shareholders of the Victoria Theatre Company will be held at the Driard tomorrow evening to consider business of importance, some of which is the future policy and conduct in connection with the theatre and buildings.

It Has Not Dropped.

Speaking about the project that was in the air some time since about building a competing telegraph line into Victoria, a prominent financial man said this morning that the matter had not by any means dropped. It was being quietly arranged and would develop definite features before long.

Visited the Pinta.

Mayor Grant, Dixi Ross and L. Boscowitz called upon Capt. Farenholt and officers of the United States ship Pinta, and enjoyed their hospitality. The probability is that the Pinta will remain at Esquimalt until after the 24th. The captain expects her to go into dock on Monday.

The Union Club Case.

The appeal case of the Union Club from the decision of Hon. A. N. Richards, Q.C., Police Magistrate, in regard to the necessity of the Club taking out a regular liquor license, was in the county court to-day, but argument was adjourned by mutual consent to a day to be fixed.

For Ever and For Aye.

Rev. P. McF. Macleod joined Mr. W. J. Ledingham and Miss Bessie Brooks last evening in the bonds which never break. The ceremony took place at 79 Pembroke street, the residence of Mr. Walsh. Miss J. Walsh acted as bridesmaid and Mr. R. Ledingham as groomsman. The newly married couple left for the Sound by the steamer Kingston.

The Best.

Manager Austin has received the following telegram:

PORT TOWNSEND, May 14.—The Carrington company played here last night. They are without doubt the best that ever visited us. Every member proved a star, so perfect that neither chorus nor orchestra was missed, or needed to cover up defects. W. H. H. LEARNED, manager opera house.

It is Full of Powder.

It was stated in the council last evening that there was no powder in the magazine at the park. In conversation to-day with the chairman of the park committee Col. Holmes stated that such is not the case. On the contrary it is full of powder and has been for some time. The committee and Col. Holmes will inspect the magazine to-morrow under the usual regulations—that is, bootless and matchless.

He Tried to Scare Them.

Dr. Hannington keeps a Chinaman to guard his place at Goldstream. The Chinaman has been annoyed by boys encroaching on the grounds for the purpose of fishing in the stream. He ordered them off but they wouldn't go, so he fired a shot to scare them. One of the shots entered a boy's hand, and accordingly a charge was brought against the Chinaman in the Provincial Court to-day. A couple of witnesses were heard and the case was adjourned.

Dominion Day.

Seghers Council, No. 85, Young Men's Institute, completed arrangement to-day for their picnic on July 1. The excursion will leave Victoria at 8 o'clock on the morning of Dominion Day and will arrive at Duncan's Station at 10 o'clock. The day will be spent at Quamichan and the party will return about 7 o'clock. The Nanaimoites with their band will meet the Victorians and dancing will be indulged in at the Agricultural Hall. Fares will be reduced to give everyone a chance to attend.

Police Court News.

At the police court this morning, Ah Ching, for keeping a common gambling house on Fisguard street, was fined $100, or in default two months' imprisonment. He will appeal from the magistrates decision. The case against another Chinaman, charged with the same offense was dismissed.

The only other cases were three ordinary drunks and disorderleys, two of whom paid the regular fee of $5, and the other not having the money necessary to pay his fine was sent up for one month at hard labor.

Dividing the Grant.

An important meeting of the members of Westminster District in the Legislative Assembly, was held on Monday, when it was decided that the Government appropriation of $30,000 for the district should be divided as follows: To Richmond municipality, $1000; for North Arm road and bridges to city limits, $1400; for New Westminster and Vancouver road, $1500; for Delta municipality, $750, and $250 for improvement on the Scott road, while Surrey is to contribute a like sum out of her allowance of $27,000; Langley Chilliwhack and Maple Ridge get $2000 each, and the balance of the $30,000 will be spent on the district outside the municipalities. It is said that the appropriation is deemed a liberal one and that the money when judiciously expended will be productive of much permanent good to the district.

Donations to the Refuge Home.

During the month of April donations were sent into the Refuge Home by the following ladies: Mrs. Gordon Grant, Mrs. S. McTavish, Mrs. Alex. Wilson, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Burkholder, Mrs. D. Spencer, Mrs. C. Spofard, Mrs. Andrew Shaw, Mrs. Andean, Mrs. Gosnel, Mr. George King, Mrs. Henry Jewell, Mrs. Flett, Baptist Church fair, Mrs. J. Bullen, to whom the matron wishes to return thanks. Mrs Siddall will also be pleased to see any visitors at the Home two to five o'clock. There is a quantity of needle work for sale which may be seen at any time. It is made by the inmates who share in the proceeds derived from the sale.

Protestant Orphans' Country Home.

The board of management of the Protestant Orphans' Home held a meeting last evening, the principal business of which was the consideration of Mr. Piper's offer of a site for a country home at Cadboro Bay. The home in town is at present taxed to its utmost, so that the present offer comes at an opportune moment. The donation was very favorably considered, and on motion of Mr. Noah Shakespeare, seconded by Rev. Mr. McLeod, a committee was appointed to wait on Mr. Piper and confer with him on the subject as well as to view the proffered site. The committee comprises the mover, seconder and Mr. C. Hayward. They will report at a subsequent meeting.

The Times' Medal.

Mr. A. A. Clayton, of the Diamond Palace store, has completed the TIMES' two mile championship medal, and in it has scored a big success in the gold working art. It is a trophy that no cyclist need be ashamed to wear. Surmounting the whole is a gold sheet representing the front page of the paper of the date of the race, pendant from which is a gold scroll with the raised letters "Two mile championship," and the medal is below on a shield-shaped ground work, bordered very artistically with gold frosted scroll work in old Roman style. Inside this again is a wreath of maple leaves surrounding a bicycle and rider of oxidised silver. The man who wins it will have a prize of which he may well be proud.

They will Advertise Victoria.

The Vancouver Island Land and Investment company are about to place a valuable Victoria property on the market at Portland and have delegated Messrs. T. Carson and Ernest Kaye to transact the necessary business in connection with the deal. They leave for that city to-night, and during their stay will lose no opportunity of advertising Victoria. The property they are going to put on the market will do that alone. It comprises 400 acres on Royal Bay, one of the most beautiful of the many beautiful locations in the environs of Victoria. A number of shares for the purchase of this property, have been taken up here and Messrs. Carsen & Kaye will make an effort to interest our American cousins, who are reputed to know a good thing when they see it.

That Sealing Dispute.

Practical sealers here look on the sealing controversy from a different point of view to the authorities at Washington. Uncle Sam's people want the seals protected from "poachers" in the sea, while it is clearly shown that is on the islands, where the Commercial Company has dominion, that the seals are diminishing. This is not so on the high sea. Inspector Elliott on his visit to the Behring sea some two years ago, advocated the killing of two or three hundred thousand seals which were "going to waste". Now he wants them protected on the islands. The only conclusion is that there has been indiscriminate killing going on on the islands by the company's servants. Local men, therefore, ask if Canadians, who hunt legitimately on the high seas (where the seals are on the increase), should be shut out for the faults of others which they have nothing to do with.

Was It Murder?

Some three or four years ago, a party of three Indians left Beachy Bay in a canoe, and only one of them arrived in Victoria. He was known as Beachy Bay Jim, and his story was that his companions were drowned through the upsetting of the canoe. The story was believed, and the matter dropped till a day or two since it was brought to recollection in a peculiar way. Some men who were digging on the shore at Metchosin, unearthed the remains of two bodies which were unmistakably those of Indians. There were two front teeth missing in the skull of one, and as this particular fact tallies with one of the two Indians lost, in addition to which the two bodies were found together in the same stage of decay, it is thought there must have been some foul play on the part of their companion who gave it out that they had been drowned. Due investigation will be made.

Fire Notes.

Weiler Bros. are arranging for fire-escapes on their factories and workshops.

On Saturday last Captain Jerry Griffiths, of the C.P.N. fire company, held a fire drill on the wharf. Water was thrown over the buildings from the hydrants recently placed below the H.B.Co.'s store and warehouse.

Mr. Grimm is making fire-escapes and stand pipes for the Clarence hotel.

The Belmont building and Pritchard house have fire-escapes on the front, facing Government street.

Among the buildings in the city provided with fire-escapes are the New York hotel, Stelley's building, Turner's block, Colbert & Warner's, Vancouver Hotel, Colonist office, Ames Holden's Shoe Factory, Delmonico hotel, Belmont building, Pritchard house, Chinese Joss house and On Hing's cigar store.

Of One Opinion—Victoria Recognizes True Merit.

During the visit of Professor Seward, the celebrated optician of New York, last fall, a large number of prominent ladies and gentlemen, not only of Victoria, but surrounding cities, called and had glasses adjusted to their eyesight, and now since Professor Seward's return, he finds, as he expected, the universal expression to be, "His work is the best that has ever been accomplished in Victoria." Professor Seward has been especially successful in correcting the most difficult of defective sight, also of adjusting cataract glasses and fitting artificial eyes. His stay in Victoria can only be of short duration, as he has promised on this trip to stop at Nanaimo, Vancouver and New Westminster, and at Seattle and Tacoma on the Sound, which he could not do on the last trip on account of limited time. This will be the last trip to the Pacific coast. A record of the examination and test of each patron is kept on file, and the glasses can be duplicated at any future time by addressing Prof. F. D. Seward, P.O. box 3567, New York. Office hours while in Victoria, 9 a.m to 5 p.m. Cor. Yates and Douglas streets, over drug store.

N.B.—Prof. Seward makes no charge for preliminary examination.

The "Rose of Castile"

Is Balfe's beautiful companion piece to "The Bohemian Girl," and like the little famous opera it is rich in melody, striking in situations and of musical interest in its plot. The opera is Spanish in character and the plot hinges on the intrigues and counterplotting of one of the grandees of the court of Spain. As it has never been seen here a rare treat is in store for our music lovers. The Carrington Opera Company will open in this beautiful opera at the Victoria Theatre to-night.

Mr. Geo. W. Traverner, now with the Carrington Grand Opera, has enjoyed an extensive career. An Englishman by birth and education, after finishing his musical studies in Milan, he appeared in various great English organizations as leading tenor; among others the "National" and "Carl Rosa." The London Musical World and other recognized authorities speak of him in the highest praise. Leaving England for America, he has appeared as leading tenor at intervals in the "Strakasch Italian Opera," "The C. D. Hess English Opera," "The American Opera," with the "Minnie Hauk Co.," and others. He has a magnificent tenor voice of great sweetness and power.

Mr. Ivan Pletson, the greatest of the Russian bassos, is with the Carrington Grand Opera. His voice is said to be wonderfully rich in quality and of great power. In the shining role of "Don Pedro," in the "Rose of Castile," his great voice and fine abilities as an actor appear to the best advantage. Do not miss "The Rose of Castile" this evening

The University Site.

At a meeting of delegates concerned in the choice of a site for the University of British Columbia, held in New Westminster, on Monday afternoon, there was a good deal of discussion among those present as to the respective merits of Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver, all those cities claiming the location of the university as their just due. Considerable surprise was evinced when Mr. D. Robson, city clerk of New Westminster, remarked by way of compromise that he thought Port Moody would be the best place. This proposition caused some amusement at first, but there is now thought to be a good deal of reason and common sense in the suggestion. A delegate from the port enthusiastically enumerated the advantages of Port Moody as a site. It is easily reached from the three great cities, has unrivalled acquatic facilities, is removed from the snares and temptations ever lying ready to entrap the unwary young student in a large town; notorious as the healthiest place on the coast, has scenery worthy to inspire a Milton or a Byron to eagle flights of fancy, and possesses all the charm of sweet rurality while being in close proximity to metropolitan culture and refinement. As this gentleman said, why should not Port Moody be the Edinburgh of the Pacific Coast? A prosperous and beautiful home of learning, a garden of the arts and sciences? The citizens of the port, he said, are willing to come down handsomely with lots and other valuable concessions.

THE SENTENCE OF JESUS.

An Alleged Copy of the Original Decree as Issued by Pontius Pilate.

A correspondent of Notes and Queries extracts from the Colnische Zeitung what is called "a correct transcript of the sentence of death pronounced against Jesus Christ." The following is a copy of the most memorable judicial sentence which has ever been pronounced in the annals of the world—nameiy, that of death against the Saviour, with the remarks that the Journal Le Droit has collected, the knowledge of which must be interesting in the highest degree to every Christian. Until now we are not aware that it has ever been made public in the German papers. The sentence is word for word as follows:

Sentence pronounced by Pontius Pilate, Intendant of the Province of Lower Galilee, that Jesus of Nazareth shall suffer death by the cross. In the seventeenth year of the reign of the Emperor Tiberius and on the 25th of the month of March, in the most holy city of Jerusalem, during the Pontificate of Annas and Caiaphas, Pontius Pilate, Intendant of the Province of Lower Galilee, sitting in judgment in the presidential seat of the Prætors, sentences Jesus Christ, of Nazareth to death on the cross between two robbers, as the numerous and notorious testimonials of the people prove: 1. Jesus is a misleader. 2. He has excited the people to sedition. 3. He is an enemy to the laws. 4. He calls Himself the Son of God. 5. He calls himself falsely the King of Israel. 6. He went into the temple followed by a multitude carrying palms in their hands. Orders: The first centurion, Quintus Cornelius, to bring him to the place of execution, forbids all persons, rich or poor, to prevent the execution of Jesus. The witnesses who have signed the execution against Jesus are: 1. Daniel Robani Pharisee. 2. John Zorobable. 4. Raphael Robani. 4. Capet. Jesus to be taken out of Jerusalem through the gate of Tournea."

The sentence is engraved on a plate of brass in the Hebrew language and on its sides are the following words: "A similar plate has been sent to each tribe." It was discovered in the year 1280 in the city of (Aquilla?) in the kingdom of Naples by a search made for the discovery of Roman antiquities and remained there until it was found by the Commissarians of Art in the the French Army of Italy. Up to the time of the campaign in Southern Italy it was preserved in the sacristy of the Carthusians, near Naples, where it was kept in a box of ebony. Since then the relic has been kept in the chapel of Casaria. The Carthusions obtained it by their petitions that the plate might be kept by them, which was an acknowledgment of the sacrifice which they made of the French army. The French translation was made literally by members of the Commission of Arts. Denon had a fac-simile of the plate engraved, which was bought by Lord Howard on the sale of his cabinet for 2790 francs. There seems to be no historical doubt as to the authenticity of this. The reasons for the sentence correspond exactly with those of the Gospels.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The following is some of the correspondence opened and read:

From M. Humber asking for the use of Cormorant street during building operations.—Granted.

From Ed. Mohun, enclosing the terms relative to the right of way of the sewer through the St. Joseph's convent property.

Ald. McKillican thought it would be advisable for the city to avail of these conditions. It would be wise to adopt the offer, and he moved that it be received and carried out.

Ald. Smith said the proper course to pursue would be to refer it to the sewerage commissioners and committee. He was of opinion that those who were benefited by the sewers passing through their property should give the right of way freely.

The communication was eventually referred to the sewerage committee and commissioners to report.

From Baker Brothers & Co., offering the steamer Clyde for a fire boat.

It was moved that it be received and referred to the fire department to report.

Ald. Smith moved that these people be notified directly that the city was not in need of a fire boat.

The Amendment was carried.

From Ogden Street (of Seattle), asking for information as to the possibilities of investing here in the manufacture of pig iron, etc., and asking what encouragement the City Council offer for the instituting of a blast furnace here. Referred to the mayor and finance committee.

From A. DeCosmos and others, with reference to the Victoria and Saanich Railway. The following is the letter:—

To His Wroship the Mayor and Municipal Council of Victoria:

GENTLEMEN,—The undersigned, being promoters of the Victoria, Saanich and New Westminster Railway and ferry system, and being firmly of the opinion that no railway project that has been named up to the present, possesses as many advantages as the railway and ferry system of which they have been the earnest promoters for some years past, and being desirous to commence the construction of their railway and ferry system early in the coming summer, they now respectfully beg leave to submit the following proposal for an additional subsidy to the Victoria, Saanich and New Westminster Railway Company for the consideration of your worshipful body:

(1) That within six weeks from date they expect the Dominion Parliament to extend for a further period the charter, with amendments, of the V.S. & N. W.R.R. Co., and that as soon as that shall have been done, they further expect, within the limit fixed by law, to organize the company by alloting the stock to subscribers, and by the election of directors by the shareholders.

(2) That it is the intention of the promoters, when the company shall have been so organized and the finances finally arranged, to immediately commence the construction of the railway at Victoria and on the Mainland.

(3) That with a view to hastening the completion of the necessary financial arrangements and thereby securing earlier the commencement of the undertaking and its continuous and vigorous prosecution till it shall have been completed and thrown open to public traffic, they beg leave to ask your worshipful body to grant to the Victoria, Saanich & New Westminster Railway Company a further aid, in addition to that granted in the Victoria, Saanich & New Westminster interest bonus by law, 1889, viz: The sum of $500,000 in money; the said sum of money to be only paid over to the company as the railway, exclusive of equipment, is constructed, and for each mile of the railway completed, not exceeding 25 miles on Vancouver Island, and not exceeding 25 miles on the Mainland, $10,000 per mile, to be paid to the company on presentation of the certificate of the engineer appointed by the company, and accepted by the municipal council as the engineer to issue certificates stating therein that the section of the railway to which such certificate refers has been completed, and that if any balance of the said $500,000 remains unexpended on the railway within the limits of mileage above stated, the same to be paid over to the company, to be expended on account of branches or equipment, or ferry boats, but satisfactory vouchers shall be given to the municipal council as to how such balance has been expended.

(4). That the said $500,000 be secured as a second mortgage on the main line of railway between Victoria and Swartz Bay, on Vancouver Island and between Point Roberts Mole and Canoe Pass branch, and the city of New Westminster and Liverpool on the Mainland, that no interest be charged on the last named sum of money for 15 years, and that at the end of 15 years, the Victoria, Saanich & New Westminster Railway Company shall pay back to the city of Victoria, the sum of $500,000 in money or in debentures of the company, bearing interest at 4 per cent. per annum, redeemable within 10 years from the date of issue.

(5). That in consideration of the city of Victoria accepting and agreeing to the above proposal, the company will undertake to commence the construction of the main line of railway on Vancouver Island not later than the 20th of July next, and on the mainland at the same time, and have both sections completed, ready for the rolling stock before the end of December, 1891, and connected with a steam ferry between Swartz Bay and Point Roberts Mole or other terminus on the mainland, and that as soon thereafter as possible, not exceeding six months, will place on the route, as a fast steam passenger and mail boat, a steamer making not less than 18 knots an hour, and if possible 20 knots per hour, and also a ferry boat built expressly for carrying freight cars between Swartz Bay and the mainland terminus, but not necessarily of as great speed as the last mentioned passenger boat, unless it be possible to combine, in a fast steamer, the capacity to do both duties at a high rate of speed.

(6.) Any explanation that the council may require, touching the above proposal, will be cheerfully supplied.

In conclusion we venture to predict that, if the above proposal be accepted, the citizens of Victoria, within less than a year, may take a three-hour journey from their own doors to New Westminster, and there connect with the heart of a thrifty community of 30,000 people, who are now connected through the agency of the great trans-continental railways, with the vast railway system of the United States and Canada.

We have the honor to be, etc. (Signed) A. DeCosmos, Thos Shotbolt, Loewen & Erb, Chas. E. Redfern, Alex. Wilson, Richard Hall, L. Goodacre, Skene Lowe, J. Stuart Yates, Joseph Clearihue, A. J. McLellan, Alex. Clearihue, G. L. Milne, Francis Page, John Teague.

Ald. Richards moved, that the communication be referred to the finance committee. Carried.

Ald. Renouf suggested that it would soon be in order for the council to have a railway committee.

From Thos. Whitwell, complaining of the presence of a pool of water on his premises, on Moss street, in consequence of a defective drain.

Referred to sanitary committee.

From B. R. Seabrook, asking permission to open the street for the purpose of laying down a drain.

The request was granted.

From J. C. Elliott, secretary fire underwriters, requesting steps be taken to regulate the sale of coal oil in the city limits. Referred to fire wardens.

From W. P. Lindley, on behalf of Hon. J. H. Turner, recommending the purchase of a number of Japanese lanterns. Carried.

From W. P. Lindley, asking that a detachment of police be detailed at the hill during the sports of the celebration. Referred to the police committee.

From A. O. Roy calling attention to the fact taat gambling is carried on every evening except Sunday in the building over Van Volkenburgh's.

Ald. Smith said he went up there to make enquiries and found it was organized as a private club. He thought it would be treading on private property, but if the matter were referred to the police it could be enquired into.

Ald. McKillican made a long onslaught on the police who, he claimed, were derelict in their duty and especially with regard to selling liquor to minors. Referred to the police committee.

From Robert Ward & Co. offering a quantity of crude rock brimstone at $37.50 a ton.

The communication was received and filed, the firm to be notified to the effect that the corporation did not need the material just now.

From Rev. W. D. Barber on behalf of the congregation of St. Savior's church asking for a sidewalk to the church from the main road. Referred to the committee.

From B. Bailey calling attention to the fact that the drains on both sides of Green street were blocked, and wanted flushing, while there was no hydrant in the vicinity. The communication was referred to the street committee.

Chief Engineer Deasy submitted the report of his department during the month of April, and making several departmental recommendations.

The report was received and referred to the fire wardens.

From W. Nasmith asking what bids were received for the fire hydrants for which tenders were asked. The letter was received and filed.

From W. S. Gore, advising that the sum of $4000 had been appropriated by the provincial government for the improvement and maintenance of the trunk roads within the recent extension of the city limits. The letter also suggested that the bridges over the ravine on the Gorge road be replaced by new ones (laughter and whistles).

Ald. Smith said the sum was rather small, and several members of the board thought the suggestion was "cool" so soon after the extension of the city, in view of the length of time the city has had charge of these bridges.

After some warm discussion the letter was referred to the street committee.

From W. C. Ward, with reference to the continuance of the bad state of Moss street. Referred to street committee.

Ald. Munn said he hoped the committee would see their way to remedy this state of things.

David Hart, Young Bros., and others addressed the council, asking for the removal of the building obstructions at the building corner of Government and Yates streets, which the petitioners consider detrimental to their business.

Ald. Smith explained that the whole thing would be opened in about ten days. According to the contract the place could be kept closed till the 30th of the month, but he strenuously objected to the accusation that he ever used his position as chairman of the street committee for his private benefit.

Ald. Coughlan said that this sidewalk could have been cleared some time ago.

Ald. Richards thought it would satisfy the petitioners if the sidewalk was cleared before the holidays.

Ald. Smith said he thought this could be done, at any rate he would take down the obstruction if the council would assume all responsibility arising from any accident to the public.

It was decided to inform the petitioners that the council had no power in the matter.

From several residents on Oak Bay avenue, asking for water supply, and suggesting that the present would be a favorable time.—Referred to the water commissioners.

There was one tender received for the sale of city debentures on the flour mills, and it was laid on the table, the time for tendering being two weeks.

The accounts of the month of April, amounting to $6102.00, were presented and adopted.

The by-law for the widening of Carr street was read a first time.

The amendment to the park by-law was read a first time.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The finance committee reported on the requests of W. J. Pendray, H. J. Brady and Chas. Wilson, and recommended that they be not granted. A sum of $250 was recommended to be given to the Trades and Labor Club.

Ald. McKillican wanted to know why

THE COUNCIL BACKS IT UP.

the $250 was voted to this club. These people had formed a club, and it was their look out to keep it up.

Ald Renouf spoke strongly in favor of the donation, which he thought would benefit an institution that was peculiarly the working-man's.

Ald. McKillican objected to it on the ground of forming a precedent.

Ald. Smith thought it was the first step in the direction of the moral reform business.

The report was adopted.

The street committee reported on the various matters under consideration. The report recommended the appointment of Mr. Lynn as street commissioner.

The report was received and adopted with the exception of the appointment of a street commissioner.

The park committee reported that there could be nothing done with reference to traffic in the park till the city had the deeds of the park.

The report was adopted.

Superintendent of City Police H. Sheppard, reported on the condition of the force during the month. The report recommended that the request of Constable Irvine for pay during suspension be not granted. The report was received and adopted.

Ald. Munn, seconded by Ald. Coughlan moved that the necessity of moving the powder magazine from Beacon Hill park be again brought to the attention of the Dominion Government and if they fail to do so before the 20th the city take steps to do so.

A long discussion arose on the point, and Ald. Renouf said he understood that there was no powder there now at all.

Ald. Munn said no private individual would have received such a privilege and it was therefore extraordinary that a government should have used its authority to force such a danger on the public. He thought the motion was a proper one, and that if the Dominion Government refused to move it, the city should take the matter into their own hands.

The resolution was passed.

Several applications were opened and read for the position of street commissioner, but the appointment was deferred for one week.

Ald. Renouf moved, and it was carried, that the sum of $10,000 be taken from the general revenue and applied to the use of the sewerage committee; also $5000 from the same source for the market committee.

It was also decided to grant the use of Jumbo for some days to get the park in order for the celebration sports.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Messrs. Dunsmuir for having placed the steamer Lorne at the disposal of the city during the visit of the Empress of India.

Ald. Coughlan moved that the sum of $500 be devoted to furnishing music at the park.

Ald. McKillican opposed it on religious principles, as it was well known that the music was to be given on Sunday and citizens could hold the board individually responsible.

Ald. Renouf—Let them—I'm willing to pay my share for such a purpose as that (hear, hear).

Otherwise the motion was unanimously passed.

The council rose at half past eleven o'clock.

Tried and True

Is the positive verdict of the people who take Hood's Sarsaparilla. When used according to directions the good effects of this excellent medicine are soon felt in nerve strength restored, that tired feeling driven off, a good appetite created, headache and dyspepsia relieved, scrofula cured and all the bad effects of impure blood overcome. For a good blood purifier, take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

They Will be Seen.

The Victoria Athletic Club are having an immense flag made for the 24th, to be displayed at Beacon Hill during their athletic exhibition. A meeting of the board of directors will be held Monday evening to consider business of importance.

Worthy of Confidence.

Those who have used it praise it! Mrs. Geo. Ward writes from Josephine, Ont., concerning Hagyard's Yellow Oil: "As a sure cure for chapped hands, swellings, sore throat, etc., I recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil to all."

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Gordon Head District.

A public school has just been created at the above locality, and a meeting of residents was held to elect trustees, the following being duly appointed, viz.: Wm. Dean, Wm. Grant and John Vantreight. The locality is three miles north of Victoria on the coast, charmingly sheltered between Cedar Hill and Mount Tolmie, and points to being a valuable suburb for settlement, adjacent to the capital. The present number of school children is 26; and the number required by the statute has been there for some years past without school opportunity. A school site has now been generously presented by a resident, and the public highway to it—such as it is—was made at the expense of another, and has several persons living on it for some years. But to give even moderate facility to the school, the roadway—if there is any official machinery to ascertain and carry out public requirements of this nature—will fairly need a share of public money spent on it, none such having ever been expended on the road adjacent to the school.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Purify The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. In its preparation, its medicinal merit, and the wonderful cures it accomplishes Hood's Sarsaparilla is Peculiar to Itself. Thousands testify to its success, and the best advertising Hood's Sarsaparilla receives is the hearty endorsement of its army of friends. Every testimonial we publish, and every statement we make on behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla may be relied upon as strictly true in every respect.

Your Blood

If you need a good blood purifier or building up medicine, be sure to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Further information and statements of cures sent free to all who address us as below.

COAL

The New Vancouver Coal Mining & Land Co., Ld.

(FORMERLY THE VANCOUVER COAL CO.),

ARE THE LARGEST COAL PRODUCERS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

THE NANAIMO COAL (Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes).

THE SOUTH FIELD COAL (Steam Fuel).

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL

(House and Steam Coal) are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating Power, unequalled by any other Bituminous Gas Coal the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL, which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay, where ships of the largest tonnage are loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.

NOW READY

BEFORE THE COUNCIL;

—OR—

Social Life in Victoria.

THE ABOVE WORK IS THE OUTCOME of the recent Moral Reform Movement which took place in the Capital City of British Columbia, and which played such an prominent part in the late Municipal Elections held there. The author discusses the various phases of the question, and has endeavored to deal with the subject in a manner that will be interesting and some practical benefit to every reader into whose hands his book may fall. The position taken by the Ministers of the Christian Churches in regard to the Municipal Election above referred to is also fully dealt with, and although the criticisms may seem severe to some, the author hopes the conclusions drawn and the desire he has shown to do a service, no matter how slight it may be, to the weak and fallen, will meet with the approval of all lovers of justice and humanity.

TO DEPOSITORS

The British Columbia Land & Investment Agency, Ld.

(SUCCESSORS TO ALLSOP & MASON.)

In view of the low rate of interest given by the Dominion Savings Bank Department, and the restrictions imposed as to the amount to be deposited, this Company is now prepared to receive money on deposit, in large or small amounts, at interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, and on favorable terms as to notice, etc.

The offices of the Company have been removed to 40 Government street, the premises lately occupied by the Telegraph Company.

"Home, Sweet Home."

"The other evening, at a social gathering, a young gentleman was asked to entertain the company with a song. He responded with "Home, Sweet Home." His friends were a little surprised at the selection, but he was heartily applauded. Stepping forward he said:

"I am glad you liked the song. There is nothing like "Home, Sweet Home;" and let me say that Page & MacGregor are selling them in every part of Victoria on terms to suit each and every one of you. If you don't want to pay rent all your lifetime, now is your time to invest. In this connection I might add that the Dominion Building and Loan Association of Toronto, J. W. Winnett, sole agent and secretary, 18 Trounce avenue, will be pleased to give you all information as to the working of the Association and how to procure a home on small monthly payments."

A SUCCESSFUL SALE

Of the Viewfield Property by Mr. Joshua Davies This Afternoon.

There was a good spirit at the sale of the Viewfield property by Mr. Joshua Davies this afternoon, principally, it may have been, owing to the fact that it is such a desirable property. Prices ranged well, bidding was brisk, and money was easily got at. At the outset Mr. Davies announced that he would commence perfectly unreserved, and he accordingly selected the first lot to start only. Following is a list of sales effected.

There is a Demand for Hygienic Knowledge

As people become more educated and intelligent, the demand for an exact science for preventing disease increases. The educated men and women of the world who have the good of humanity at heart, should at all times show their less favored brothers and sisters how the best growths, mental and physical, may be obtained. The people require to be taught in plain, every-day language to which they are accustomed. A writer very wisely says: "Doctors who talk Latin to the patients and use big-sounding names and phrases will not satisfy the hunger for knowledge which seems contemporaneous throughout the world."

Until Hygienic knowledge and perfect sanitation is thoroughly understood and practiced, and its benefits fully appreciated in all our large towns and cities where disease is continually lurking, and laying its deadly hand upon thousands of men, women and children; Paine's Celery Compound should have a place in every household. Physicians should impress upon all families the necessity of its use, as a means of avoiding disease from malarias, sewer gases and noxious vapors. The weak, and all predisposed to sickness and disease should use this great builder of nerve and brain every day, until health and strength is assured. The spring-time carries off thousands of all ages. This death rate can be vastly lowered if Paine's Celery Compound is used. Canadians are beginning to realize this important fact as the demand for this king of remedies has increased tremendously.
